

40 Automatic Pinspotters Installed At Bowl-O-Drome

Installation of 40 American Machine and Foundry co., automatic pinspotters was nearing completion yesterday as final touches were being applied for the public opening next Friday, March 29, of the million dollar Bowl-O-Drome, at 220th st. at Western in Torrance.

Incorporated into the modernistic structure, located in the heart of the Torrance industrial and residential region, are all of the latest innovations—plus a few additions—that the public has come to expect and accept at a family social and recreation facility.

Bowling, naturally, will be offered 24 hours daily for league and "open play" along with billiards, food and drink, dancing, a supervised nursery and a novel "free" kiddieland. Reservations and applications for summer league team and individuals are still being accepted with the scheduled program calendar to begin on April 22. Bowl-O-Drome represents the third bowling establishment owned, operated and constructed by the Alex Schreiber Enterprises. Previously it built Paradise Bowl in Westchester and Victory Bowling Center in Van Nuys. On the drawing boards is another 32-lane plant, which will be developed later this year at Lakewood and Firestone. Among organizations and industrial plants already signed up for league competition are Douglas, North American, Doak and Longren aircraft, Star-Kist Tuna, Palos Verdes golf club, Union Carbide, National Tool and Supply, Shell Chemical and Rome Cable.

Bowling activity at Bowl-O-Drome will be under supervision of Andy Anderson, veteran Southern California manager, with free instruction directed by Bob Prince, graduate of the "Certified Instructors" school held in Los Angeles late last year. An official "grand opening" program will be announced in the near future. However, all facilities will be operated in the meantime following the public inaugural next Friday.

It was announced by Chairman Johnny Johnson of the sponsoring Chamber of Commerce. The show will be open to the public through March 24.
